This year we celebrate 30 years of Women’s Aid Federation Northern Ireland. We were formed back in 1978 by the first three Women’s Aid groups in Northern Ireland, Belfast, Foyle and Coleraine; three years after the first refuge was opened in Belfast in 1975.

Throughout the 1970’s independent refuges for women and children victims of domestic violence were being set up as part of an international feminist movement which included Great Britain, Ireland, USA, Canada and Australia and many European countries. In the UK and Ireland many of these groups came together to share their experiences and used the name ‘Women’s Aid’.

Our mission then in Federation was to develop new Women’s Aid groups and with the enthusiasm and commitment of hundreds of women and supporters across Northern Ireland we have done just that. We now have a thriving network of 10 local groups spread across Northern Ireland with 12 refuges and 15 resource centres.

During the last 10 years Women’s Aid groups across Northern Ireland gave refuge to 12,579 women and 12,748 children and young people.

The 24-Hour Domestic Violence Helpline started by Women’s Aid Federation in 1995 is now fully supported by a Service Level Agreement and open to anyone affected by domestic violence. During the last 14 years the Helpline has managed 212,215 calls.

Behind these statistics are stories of shattered lives and an abuse of women and children’s human rights. Behind them also are stories of hope and courage and liberation.

This year we have started on our own internal change process challenging ourselves to make sure we are structured in the best way to ensure the delivery of empathic, professional and effective services for women and children victims of domestic violence across Northern Ireland. We will meet that challenge as we have met all the others along the way.

Thanks are due to all our funders who have supported our work throughout the year; a full list of funders appears on page 50.

Special thanks are due to the Domestic & Sexual Violence Unit, DHSS&PS, Community Safety Unit, Northern Ireland Office and the Northern Ireland Housing Executive who jointly fund the Service Level Agreement for the 24-Hour Domestic Violence Helpline.

Finally warm thanks are due to the committed members of the Federation Management Board and to the enthusiasm and hard work of the Federation staff and volunteer team, ably led by Annie Campbell, Director.

Christine Whiteman
Chair
Women’s Aid Federation Northern Ireland
Thirty years on and the need for the work of Women’s Aid across Northern Ireland is as urgent as ever.

We can take great pride in our work across all those years and in this current year, with calls managed by the 24-Hour Domestic Violence Helpline increasing again to 27,663 and Women’s Aid local groups providing refuge to 1058 women and 890 children.

But the question remains ‘Why is Violence Against Women still so endemic in our society and indeed across the globe’?

Women’s Aid in Northern Ireland emerged from the feminist movement in the 1970’s with a clear analysis that violence against women is a manifestation of unequal power relationships between women and men at all levels of society. We recognise domestic violence as one form of violence against women.

When we look around in 2009 we see the routine denigration of women in the popular media; the surveys showing acceptance of violence in relationships by young boys and girls; the range of obstacles and denials and myths that still make it so difficult for women to disclose the brutality, physical, emotional or sexual, in their homes.

Our analysis remains the same now as back when we were formed that domestic violence is an abuse of power and that until women and men are truly equal in society and across the world that abuse will continue.

We have still a long way to go but in this our 30th birthday year we are also proud to acknowledge how far we have come – crimes of violence in the home are no longer treated as ‘just a domestic’, there is protection under the law, our refuge and support services are there to help women. Crucially we have partners in government, police, statutory agencies and civil society who work with us to help victims of domestic violence.

We value the Tackling Violence at Home government strategy partnership and are fully committed to playing our part in it, even if at times the process can feel painfully slow.

Signs of positive movement for us this year included a shift in the work around preventative education in schools with an encouraging dialogue beginning between ourselves and the Department of Education. With 7,145 children and young people accessing Women’s Aid prevention programmes this year we know how essential this work is and how critical to building a different future.
We were delighted with the strong cross-party support for the work of Women's Aid we received during the debate on a Domestic Violence Motion at Stormont on 31st March 2009 and are keen to build on this foundation with all our MLA's.

When Women's Aid was formed 30 years ago the issue of domestic violence was shrouded in secrecy and silence and we campaigned to bring it into the light and to demand services for women and children. This legacy remains with us. This year we were delighted to see our efforts to raise awareness of the reality of human trafficking and sexual exploitation in Northern Ireland finally accepted, and a pilot project established between the NIO and Women’s Aid to provide support for women who are victims of this modern day slavery.

Our mission is the elimination of domestic violence; we intend being here for the next 30 years or for however long it takes to fulfil that mission.

This year I would like to thank as always the team of Senior Managers of the 10 local Women’s Aid groups for their dedication and expertise.

Many thanks go to the talented and hard-working team of Federation staff and volunteers; with particular thanks to the support and enthusiasm of Federation Senior Managers Deirdre Teague and Sarah Mason.

And finally thanks to the committed volunteers who make up our Management Board; led by the Chair Christine Whiteman, with great skill and dedication.

Annie Campbell
Director

POLICY & LOBBYING

Policy and lobbying work forms an essential part of Women’s Aid Federation’s work to challenge the attitudes and beliefs that perpetuate domestic violence by lobbying, campaigning and influencing the policy agenda.

In August 2008 Federation welcomed Gillian Clifford as our first Regional Policy & Information worker. The overall policy & lobbying work is led by Annie Campbell, Director with lead roles on different issues assigned to Sarah Mason, Finance & Training Manager, Deirdre Teague, Helpline Manager and Gillian Clifford, Regional Policy & Information worker.

Tackling Violence @ Home

During this period we were active participants in the interagency Tackling Violence @ Home regional strategic partnership, chaired by NIO and DHSS&PS, with places on the Regional Strategic Group and on the Protection & Justice sub-group, the Children’s & Young People’s sub-group and the Training sub-group.

Partnership in action: MARAC & MODV

We participated in the planning for the next TV@H Action Plan for April 2009 – September 2010 pressing to ensure that actions were sharper and addressed the key issues identified by Women’s Aid across Northern Ireland. For example we have continued to support the roll out of Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conferences (MARAC’s), and pressed for the development of a full range of perpetrator programmes, eg MODV which are standardised, quality assured and provide built in support for the women whose partners or ex-partners are on the programmes.

Preventative education: breaking the cycle

Preventative education has been a clear focus for our lobbying work this year and we were delighted to gain financial support from DHSS&PS to agree an action point ‘To secure funding and develop a strategic approach to deliver the Helping Hands / No Fear / Heading for Healthy Relationships across schools’.
Stormont Domestic Violence Motion

A Domestic Violence Motion debated at Stormont on 31st March 2009, provided an excellent foundation for our public affairs work. We issued a briefing to all political parties and made contact with all of their policy officers. The result was strong cross-party support for the work of Women’s Aid and a clear statement from MLAs deploiring domestic violence and in particular it’s effects on women and children in Northern Ireland.

The key issues we identified from the motion and that have formed the basis for our ongoing lobbying work are:

- Children and Young People
  Women’s Aid calls for a strategy to ensure that the essential support work with children and young people is properly resourced with sustainable funding streams dedicated to these areas.

- Preventative education
  Women’s Aid calls for a sustainable funding stream to be developed to ensure that essential preventative work with children and young people in schools is properly resourced.

- Research
  Women’s Aid calls for Northern Ireland specific research to be undertaken to examine the full extent and effect of domestic violence on children and young people in Northern Ireland.

- Refuge provision
  Women’s Aid call for any gaps in refuge services identified by our research to be examined and arrangements made to fill the gaps.

- Access to Legal Aid
  Women’s Aid calls for an immediate amendment to the Legal Aid rules with an automatic right given to all victims of domestic violence to access legal protection and justice free of charge.

- NRPF
  Women’s Aid calls for an emergency fund to be set up by government to ensure that there is adequate financial support for women who are victims of domestic violence, and who have no or limited recourse to public funds, to enable them to take refuge from their abusers.
On an ongoing basis we continue to provide information to politicians / Councillors and key policy makers on the effects of domestic violence and the work of Women’s Aid across Northern Ireland.

End Violence Against Women Lobbying – Meeting the Ministers

We also continued to lobby departmental Ministers and officials on the conclusions of the Making the Grade 2007 report and the broader violence against women issues. During this period 5 Ministerial lobby meetings were held with the following departments:

- Arlene Foster, MLA, Minister for the Department of Enterprise Trade & Investment
- Rt Hon Jeffrey Donaldson MP, MLA, Junior Minister Office of the First Minister & Deputy First Minister
- Margaret Ritchie MLA, Minister Department for Social Development
- Sir Reg Empey MLA, Minister Department for Employment and Learning
- Caítriona Ruane MLA, Minister Department of Education Northern Ireland

These meetings, held in conjunction with Amnesty International and a variety of representatives from the public, community and voluntary sectors, have been very positive and have opened a dialogue across departmental remits on the issue of violence against women. In addition we began the work of developing contact with a range of party policy officers, political researchers and policy advisors.

Bill of Rights for Northern Ireland

Women’s Aid Federation jointly held the women’s sector seat on the Bill of Rights Forum and the Criminal Justice & Victims working group which produced its report at the beginning of April 2008. We continued to monitor the development of the Bill of Rights, pressing for full implementation of the UN international human rights Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW) aimed specifically at addressing the inequalities and gender-specific issues faced by women, particularly violence against women in all its forms.

Trafficking

We have continued our lobbying work on trafficking and were rewarded when the UK signed up to the Council of Europe Convention on Action against Trafficking of Human beings in December 2008. We worked with two of our local Women’s Aid groups to tender for a pilot support project for the women victims of human trafficking and sexual exploitation, which is currently ongoing. A few short years ago the fact that there were victims of human trafficking in Northern Ireland, which had become apparent to Women’s Aid from experience, had been denied so getting this support work embedded was a great step forwards.
POLICY RESPONSES

During this period we responded to 14 policy consultations drawing on the expertise of Women’s Aid across Northern Ireland:

- NIO Elections Unit: Consultation on anonymous voter registration scheme in NI

NI Policing Board

Throughout this period we contributed extensively to the Northern Ireland Policing Board’s Thematic Review on Domestic Violence. We were very pleased that the subsequent report contained many of our key recommendations.
REGIONAL TRAINING

Training is a vital part of the work of Women’s Aid Federation, both internally for staff development and externally raising awareness of domestic violence and Women’s Aid Services.

The last year has been a busy year within training, with promotion of specialised training programmes to the 10 local Women’s Aid groups in Northern Ireland and external agencies throughout Northern Ireland.

Women’s Aid is the lead voluntary organisation in Northern Ireland addressing domestic violence. The aim of the work of Women’s Aid Federation is to develop effective local support and prevention strategies for women, children and young people affected by domestic violence. We do this by working directly with Women’s Aid groups and the external agencies providing education, recreation and caring services for women, children and young people.

The training team managed by Sarah Mason, Finance and Training Manager, includes Debbie Mehaffy, Young Person’s Development Worker with the welcome addition of Joanne Kelly, Regional Trainer who was recruited in September 2008.

Accredited Training

We are an accredited centre with OCN (Open College Network) and continue to effectively deliver accredited courses at level three.

- OCN level 3 New worker Training (6 day programme)
- OCN level 3 Court Support (6 day programme)
- OCN level 3 Group work & Facilitation skills (6 day programme)
- OCN level 3 Effective Helping Skills

Women’s Aid has also positively contributed to Skills for Justice in the development of new National Occupational Standards for Preventing and Tackling Domestic and Sexual Abuse and Violence.

The main element of the regional training is ongoing continued professional development training for all Women’s Aid staff and volunteers in Northern Ireland. The following table outlines the extent of the training programme for this year.

Comic Relief

This year saw the further development of working in partnership with the other Federations in England, Scotland and Wales as part of a Comic Relief funded project. There are three agreed outcomes for the project which aims to produce a core curriculum for domestic violence training which takes account of the different roles and needs within the sector.

Outcome One

There will be an agreed core curriculum for domestic violence training across the UK, ensuring a consistent approach to meeting the training needs of staff in all relevant sectors.

Outcome Two

Women’s Aid staff are supported through continuing professional development, thus allowing them to offer the best possible services to women, children and young people with experience of domestic abuse.

Outcome Three

A network of qualified and accredited trainers will be enabled to deliver training to meet the needs of staff in all relevant sectors.

One of the key achievements has been the sharing of training materials, policies, procedures and best practice across all Federations. Women’s Aid Federation NI is also working with Open College Network and the Scottish, Welsh and English Women’s Aid Federations to develop further accredited units.

Tackling Violence at Home Strategy
Action Plan 08–09 Strand Four

To coordinate the implementation of the Training Strategy, in conjunction with the Training Sub-Group, the Local Domestic Violence Partnerships and all relevant agencies/organisations.

Regional Training Strategy

Tackling Violence at Home, the government’s strategy for addressing domestic violence and abuse in Northern Ireland, recognises the need for a co-ordinated approach by all the relevant government departments, statutory and voluntary agencies to the prevention of domestic violence and effective response where it occurs.

In order to take this work forward, Women’s Aid Federation sits on the Training Sub Group of the Regional Strategic Group on Domestic Violence. We also have a Regional Training Strategy Group with representatives from all ten local Women’s Aid groups to facilitate, co-ordinate and develop a regional strategic approach to training across Northern Ireland.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the local groups for their ongoing commitment and contribution to this project.
External Training

Women’s Aid is committed to providing quality training to agencies who in the course of their work come into contact with women and children affected by domestic violence. The aim of our training is to develop the skills and capacity of organisations to respond more effectively to victims of domestic violence.

PSNI Training

We continue to successfully co-ordinate and deliver domestic violence awareness training to PSNI (Police Service Northern Ireland) new recruits. A pool of qualified Women’s Aid trainers deliver this valued training which has a direct impact on police response to domestic violence.

In addition, staff within Women’s Aid groups also deliver training locally to PSNI and other statutory bodies.
Children’s Services

890 Children and young people stayed in Women’s Aid refuges in Northern Ireland this year.

Women’s Aid recognises that children and young people are often the forgotten victims of domestic violence. We understand through our work that children can be affected in many different ways when living with domestic violence.

The aim of the work of Women’s Aid Federation is to highlight the diverse needs of children and young people and to develop effective local support and prevention strategies for children and young people affected by domestic violence. We do this by working directly with Women’s Aid groups and the external agencies providing education, recreation and caring services for women, children and young people.

The Young Person’s Development worker ensures that the needs of the children and young people who stayed in our refuges last year, and the many others who are not so visible, are highlighted with the range of agencies and government departments which have a responsibility for them. Through consultation with local Women’s Aid groups the project ensures that children’s issues are high on every agenda and government strategy. The Young Person’s Development worker represents these issues on relevant groups.

Women’s Aid Children & Young People’s Services Directory

Through consultation with local Women’s Aid Groups, a directory of services provided by Women’s Aid to Children and Young People who experience domestic violence has been developed. The directory provides information on services provided by Women’s Aid and how they link to the Hardiker Model of need which reflects the Northern Ireland Family Support Model as developed through the Children’s Services Planning process.

Preventative Education Programmes In Northern Ireland

Women’s Aid preventative work in schools has been ongoing for approximately 10 years, is ground-breaking in its approach and is highly regarded across Northern Ireland by schools who have accessed it. Women’s Aid prevention programmes help children and young people recognise inappropriate behaviour, create strategies in seeking help and support if required, and confidence to develop and sustain healthy relationships.

Women’s Aid believes that preventative education work with all children and young people in schools and community settings is the way forward to ensure that attitudes within society are changed to the point where domestic violence is unacceptable and no child is left without information or support.

Funding

In the last year Women’s Aid Federation have been successful in our funding bid to the DHSS&PS, Domestic & Sexual Violence Unit to take forward our prevention work within schools.

You and Me, Mum

Funding
This project is funded by the DHSS&PS, Domestic and Sexual Violence Unit, for three years.

Tackling Violence at Home Strategy Action Plan 08-09 Strand Three: Support
Continued development and roll-out (and associated funding) of ‘You and Me, Mum’ programme for mothers supporting children and young people who have lived with domestic violence.

The main purpose of the project is to empower, support and develop further understanding of the role of mothers throughout Northern Ireland in addressing the needs of their children and young people who have lived with domestic violence.

Women’s Aid believes through its ethos that the building of resilience of children and young people is essential. After a successful three year funding bid to the Domestic and Sexual Violence Unit, DHSS&PS, Women’s Aid are now in a position to roll out the programme across Northern Ireland.

“Children who are experiencing domestic violence may benefit from a range of support services, and some may need safeguarding from harm. Often, supporting a non-violent parent is likely to be the most effective way of promoting the child’s welfare.” (Department of Health, Home Office, Department for Education and Employment 1999)
Women’s Aid have set the following project targets for the year 2008-09:

Project Target One

To develop and implement a roll-out plan to ten Women’s Aid groups in Northern Ireland through the You and Me, Mum Train the Trainers programme.

Aim of training:

To introduce facilitators to You and Me, Mum - a ten week self help program.

By the end of this program you will be able to

- Further explore the effects of domestic violence on a mother
- Further explore the effects of domestic violence on children and young people
- Further explore the mother/ child relationship dynamic, when domestic violence is prevalent
- Promote and develop effective communication skills with mothers, children and young people
- Promote healthy and non-violent relationships
- Explore key Protective Behaviour messages and strategies for keeping mothers, children & young people safe.

Since the commencement of train the trainers on You and Me, Mum Women’s Aid now have 74 fully trained facilitators throughout Northern Ireland delivering the You and Me, Mum programme to mothers.

You and Me Mum – 3 Months On After Completion of the Programme

After a three month period Women’s Aid facilitators went back to mothers participating and asked:

“Has You and Me, Mum influenced your relationship in any way with your child or young person?”

“We talk to each other and listen to each other”

“It’s made my relationship with my eldest child much better and we listen to each other a lot more”

“I know I am making a better connection with their feelings and confusion- Before I didn’t fully realise that their feelings were similar to my own”

“I try to be more understanding to my kids-who are all very young- appreciate their confusion and try to find ways to allow them to express their feelings”

“We are all getting on better and looking forward to new things”

“My relationship with my kids has improved a great deal. Because I now take time for us rather than the three of us spending time in separate rooms alone”

“I feel stronger and I can even be more supportive to them. Relationships in the home are closer”
The 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline is managed by Women’s Aid Federation and is open to anyone affected by domestic violence. This freephone service is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The Helpline Manager, Deirdre Teague manages the overall Helpline service. The Helpline has 7 part-time staff and 4 full-time staff and a pool of Bank staff who provide occasional cover. Sonya Lutton, the Volunteer Co-ordinator, manages and trains the Helpline volunteer team.

Total number of calls managed by the 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline from 1995-2009

In 1995 the 24-Hour Domestic Violence Helpline was established and in the 14 years since then the Helpline has managed 212,215 calls, with calls increasing year on year.

When most of us are enjoying time off with our families and friends — such as Christmas Day or New Year’s Eve — our volunteers and staff have kept the Helpline open over the years, providing a lifeline to those for whom holidays often bring only an increase in abuse and misery.
This report covers the third successful year of the Service Level Agreement with Women’s Aid Federation Northern Ireland to manage the 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline, funded by the Domestic & Sexual Violence Unit, DHSS&PS, the Northern Ireland Housing Executive and the Community Safety Unit, Northern Ireland Office.

During this period the Helpline managed 27,663 calls, an increase of 14% on the previous year. 5,307 callers were given information on Women’s Aid floating support services, an increase of 19% on the previous year.

Systematic isolation of the victim characterises domestic violence and in rural areas this is further exacerbated by geographical isolation and transport difficulties. Having a Freephone 0800 number has ensured that there is an equality of access to the Helpline across Northern Ireland; a path is opened out of the isolation.

The majority of callers to the service are women who are experiencing domestic violence. Statutory agencies, including PSNI, social services and health professionals use the Helpline to increase support for the women and children they work with.

The service signposts callers to a variety of statutory and voluntary agencies eg, mental health support teams, Nexus, Men’s Advisory Project, Parents Advice Centre and social services. Concerned family and friends also contact the Helpline for information and support.

27,663 Calls were managed by the 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline between April 2008- March 2009

UKROL

The Helpline is linked into the UK Refuges online, a database of domestic violence services across the UK. It provides up to date information on vacancies in refuges and availability of other domestic violence services.

The Helpline is working to ensure that harder to reach groups, such as migrant workers, those in rural areas, disabled people, and those in same sex relationships are aware of the service. Important links have been made with Disability Action, NICEM, Rainbow and STEP NI which will be built upon in future years. In August 2008 the Helpline participated in the Gay Pride festival with a Helpline stall where we received a warm welcome.
Number of Calls Managed by the Helpline: 1st April 2008 - 31st March 2009

14% increase in the total number of calls managed

The figures for the year reflect the seasonal patterns with busy periods occurring at Christmas, New Year, and Bank Holidays.

Calls managed include all calls answered and all calls made by Helpline staff to follow up specific support and advice. For example, arranging refuge accommodation for a woman may involve Helpline workers making a number of calls out.

Number of Calls Answered by the Helpline: 1st April 2008 - 31st March 2009

The Helpline increased its strike rate throughout the year from 75% at the beginning of the year to 79%, which exceeds by 4% the Telephone Helplines Association recommended strike rate of 75%.

The strike rate is the percentage of incoming calls answered compared to the remaining percentage of incoming callers who find the line engaged.

A total number of 25,469 calls were answered during the year; this was an increase in 22% on the previous year.
Breakdown of Callers: 1st April 2008 - 31st March 2009

The majority of callers to the service are from women, which reflects the levels of domestic violence experienced by women.

Referrals to Other Women’s Aid Services: 1st April 2008 - 31st March 2009

Floating Support is an outreach service to provide support to women victims of domestic violence to enable them to remain in their own homes. These referrals have increased by 19% since last year.
A total of 239 male callers were signposted to Men’s Advisory Project, Men to Men, Men’s Action Network, Tara Centre, Aisling Centre and a variety of statutory and support services. This equates to 1% of calls answered.

Calls from Foreign Nationals & Black & Minority Ethnic Women: 1st April 2008 - 31st March 2009

A total of 120 calls to the service were from foreign nationals and black and minority ethnic women. This equates to 0.5% of calls answered.

The Helpline uses the Language Line translation and interpretation service.
Helpline Volunteers

Volunteers are an essential part of the Helpline team: throughout the year they contributed a total of 3,268 hours to the service, an average of 9 hours per day, 365 days of the year.

Volunteers receive training in domestic violence awareness raising, listening skills, child protection, legal options, signposting and the impact of domestic violence on children. The Helpline provides new volunteer training bi-annually, in January and September.

Coming from all walks of life, our highly trained and dedicated volunteers bring their own unique perspective and a rich diversity to the organisation. They all, however, have one thing in common – a strong belief in the work they do and a determination to support those who ring us for help.

Helpline calls have increased, with three lines open during busy periods, which would not be possible without the contribution of our volunteers. They have a strong sense of ownership of the service and have been instrumental in its development over the past 14 years.

Garden of Oasis

In May 2008 Women’s Aid Federation were delighted to receive a Volunteer Development Agency award at Stormont during Volunteer Week for creating a ‘Garden of Oasis’ for our Helpline volunteers.

This arose from our recognition of the stressful nature of Helpline volunteering work and our respect for the invaluable support of our volunteers.

Statistics

It is important to recognise that statistical data can never give the full picture of the impact on women and children of living with the devastating effects of domestic violence. Statistics can however give a brief snapshot of the work carried out by Women’s Aid Federation and the ten autonomous groups operating throughout Northern Ireland.

Number of Women and Children Staying in Refuge

A total of 1,058 women and 890 children stayed in Women’s Aid refuges during this year. Whilst this figure represents a small decrease on last year, what has remained constant, is that every day in Northern Ireland another 5 women and children come to stay in refuge because they are not safe in their own homes.

From 1998/99 to 2008/09 12,579 women and 12,748 children & young people have stayed in our refuges

1,058 Women stayed in refuges throughout Northern Ireland between April 2008 - March 2009

890 Children stayed in refuges throughout Northern Ireland between April 2008 - March 2009
Age range of women staying in Women’s Aid refuges: 1st April 2008 - 31st March 2009

The age range of women staying in Women’s Aid refuges in 2008/09 is illustrated above. Once again, the most predominant age group is the 25-35 year olds who represent 30% of all women staying in refuge this year. The second highest group are those aged 17-24 years old who made up 26% of those staying in refuge. Overall, 79% of women in refuge this year were aged between 17 and 45 years old. However, domestic violence impacts all age groups in society. 13% of women were aged between 46-55 years old, with 5% aged between 56-60 years old. 21% of women in refuge in Northern Ireland in 2008/09 were over the age of 46.

Length of stay of women & children in Women’s Aid refuges: 1st April 2008 - 31st March 2009
Black & Minority Ethnic Women

As Northern Ireland continues to become an increasingly diverse society, so Women’s Aid has responded to the challenges of this changing environment. Women’s Aid has published information leaflets in 6 different languages. In addition, our 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline uses the Language Line translation and interpretation service which all of our ten local Women’s Aid groups can also access. In 2008/09 190 women from black, minority and ethnic communities, including the travelling community, were accommodated in our local refuges. This figure represents a slight decrease on 2007/08 from 199 women. 74 women from BME communities also accessed floating support services. Women’s Aid is actively seeking ways to reach out to women and children who need our services in all communities and offer support.

190 Women from black, minority and ethnic communities were accommodated in our local refuges

74 Women from black, minority and ethnic communities accessed our floating support services

Disability

The number of women coming into our refuge who disclosed having a disability was 75 with a further 219 women with a disability helped through Floating Support.
Floating Support

The number of women accessing floating support and outreach work in Northern Ireland has continued to increase significantly. A total of 2,814 women and 2,753 children accessed floating support during 2008/09. This represents a 38% increase on the previous year. This growing area of support enables women and their children to access support whilst remaining in their own homes and communities. A wide range of agencies work together to access support for women experiencing domestic violence. As such referrals to floating support can come from a variety of sources including the 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline. Among the agencies contacting Women’s Aid to refer women to our services are:

- Youth Justice Agency
- Probation Board Northern Ireland
- Northern Ireland Housing Executive
- Citizens Advice Bureaux
- Samaritans
- PSNI
- Doctors

• Hospital
• Health Visitors
• Mental Health Services

Belfast & Lisburn Women’s Aid

Modernisation Programme

The plans for the modernisation of the refuges in Lisburn and North Belfast are developing well. We will be improving facilities for women and children, with ensuite bedrooms to ensure privacy while still maintaining the self help ethos and communal living to enable women to get and give mutual support. A number of self contained move on units will be integrated into the refuges. They are designed to meet the diverse needs of women and children supported through the crisis intervention stage but who need ongoing support.

Recruitment

A new post was recruited with funding from the Department of Education. The Young Women's Project provides support and intervention to young women aged 16-25 who have experienced domestic violence as a child, or are currently in, or have in the past been in, an abusive relationship.

Plans were put in place to secure funding for a second PSNI Support Worker to be located in District B Public Protection Unit.

Partnership Working

The Belfast Domestic Violence Partnership was re-established with the strategic and operational objectives, action plan, structure and membership agreed. A part time Coordinator has responsibility for developing the work of the partnership which is progressing very well.

In addition we worked in partnership with the NIO, Foyle Women’s Aid and Women’s Aid Federation NI to support women who are victims of human trafficking.

Mothering Through Domestic Violence

This year saw our group host a hugely successful seminar “Mothering through Domestic Violence” held to raise the issues and difficulties that women who experience violence as mothers. Professor Marianne Hester, a well known author, academic and researcher gave the keynote address.

Causeway Women’s Aid

Community Safety Partnerships

In 2008 / 2009 we extended links to the Community Safety Partnerships within our area and as a result were able to establish a weekly outreach to Ballycastle. A Morning session for drop-in support and ‘You and Me Mum’ programmes is followed by an afternoon session for children. Having begun to deliver this service in September 2008 we have had a steady flow of women accessing support and have almost thirty children who have used the service.

Youth Forum

Our Youth Forum continues to be active and they have made a considerable difference to our working environment by designing and painting a fabulous mural depicting the journey of a victim of domestic violence in the entrance of our Women’s Centre in Coleraine.

30th Anniversary Year

All of our other services are in high demand and with the arrival of 2009 we have entered our 30th anniversary year. We plan to continue to work hard to ensure excellent services for all women and children who need our support.

Cookstown & Dungannon Women’s Aid

New Resource Centre

Cookstown and Dungannon Women’s Aid held the official opening of our new Resource Centre on Monday night 10 November 2008 along with our Annual General Meeting. The Resource Centre, which was partly funded by the Big Lottery and the Henry Smith Charity, was jointly opened by representatives of both funders and the current Chair of the organisation. The event was very well supported and attendees included teachers, solicitors, police and local political representatives.

Domestic Violence Awareness Raising

The organisation continues to raise awareness wherever and whenever we are asked. This year we delivered in excess of 30 awareness raising sessions to both statutory and community groups throughout the Cookstown, Dungannon and Magherafelt Council areas.

Craicavon and Banbridge Women’s Aid
(Incorporating Armagh City and District)

Safe Accommodation

Refuge occupancy remains high and steady and while the majority of our residents are from the local area, the number of women being referred/self referred with limited or no recourse to public funds continues to be a significant issue of concern.

Community Based Services

We continue to deliver a high level of Outreach, Aftercare and Counselling, both in the Community and at our Centre. As this service remains largely unfunded we have looked for new, innovative, efficient and effective ways of doing more of the same, differently. To that end initiatives both resurrected and set up in this year include, for example, seven shared venue provisions. This enables us to receive and manage the high referral numbers as well as making it easier for our clients to access their support.

Prevention and Intervention

Schools and parenting support work continues and is delivered collaboratively with our Women’s Aid colleagues in Newry, Mourne, South Down and South Armagh as well as Cookstown and Dungannon.

Fermanagh Women’s Aid

This year, Fermanagh Women’s Aid travelled a remarkable 74,510 miles to deliver their services to 156 Women and 85 children across the county of Fermanagh.

Red Nose Day

This year presented a number of exciting opportunities. Funding was received from BBC Children in Need and the work of our group with children was featured in the 2008 Red Nose Day television appeal, which brought a great deal of recognition for our work.

Creative Arts Project

The Arts Council also provided funding for a creative writing and environmental art project which proved to be a tremendous success. The paintings by Fermanagh women, were sold in a local gallery to members of the general public. The sense of achievement these women felt was wonderful to witness. Such was the success of this initiative that staff felt that the loss of funding for this particular work represents a considerable loss.

We intend continuing to travel the roads of Fermanagh next year to deliver our services to the women and children who are in need of them.

Foyle Women’s Aid

Ashley Wood House & Pump Street Buildings

This year saw the successful negotiation of the hand over of Ashley Wood House and Pump Street buildings by DHSS&PS. Foyle Women’s Aid are very grateful to Minister McGimpsey, MLA for his intervention, visit to the services, and ongoing support which has greatly contributed to the realisation of the organisation’s development plans. Once realised these will provide a much wider more comprehensive service for all victims of domestic violence in the Foyle area.

Lottery People’s Millions

The success in winning the Lottery People’s Millions and the creation of our beautiful secret garden has been a wonderful contribution to our project and is greatly utilized by all. We also had the honor of two visits from Minister Paul Goggins MP who, after receiving presentations and meeting the development group at Foyle, was very encouraging of the overall vision for the service.

Trafficking

We were delighted when he later returned to launch the pilot project to support women victims of human trafficking. Foyle Women’s Aid are part of a pilot interagency project with Belfast & Lisburn Women’s Aid and Women’s Aid Federation NI, funded by the NIO. We collectively provide the crucial support for women who suffer many aspects of abuse and exploitation as a result of being trafficked. Many thanks to the Poppy project in London who were generous with their time and expertise on this matter during our visit.

North Down and Ards Women's Aid

Retirement of Management Coordinator

The last year for North Down and Ards Women's Aid has been one that has witnessed the development and expansion of existing projects. It has also been a year that has witnessed the end of an era for North Down and Ards Women’s Aid. Hilary Forrester, Management Coordinator who worked for the organisation for a period of 18 years retired in March. While Hilary has moved on, she will be remembered for the rich legacy in service development and organisational growth that she has left behind. Sandra McNamee replaced Hilary Forrester as Management Coordinator in March 2009.

Core Services & innovative work

In the year April '08 to end March ‘09 the refuge accommodated 36 women and 43 children. The floating support service remains busy and 76 women availed of this service. Children and young people remain of paramount importance and our children’s projects such as “Transformers” and “Helping Hands” continue to be well attended and positive feedback illustrates the social value of this innovative work and the impact it has for both women and children.

School Prevention Programmes

Prevention work is extremely successful and two workers dedicate their time to raising awareness of self-esteem and healthy relationships in both primary and post primary schools with a total of 1544 pupils in the area having attended classes.

Training

We will continue to develop our training provision to external agencies to ensure they are aware of the nature and context of domestic violence and to encourage them to put in place positive supports for women and children.

Omagh Women’s Aid

Refurbishment Programme

This year saw a programme of substantial refurbishment for both our Resource Centre and our Refuge. The Centre got a long overdue new kitchen and the training room also got a make over. The new furniture and fittings and fresh decor are proving very popular with all who use the Centre. The Refuge saw a programme of works carried out to update facilities in the bedrooms and to provide for new computers for use by women and children. This work was generously funded by DSD.

Ministerial Visit

In January the staff and women in the refuge were delighted to welcome Minister Margaret Ritchie, MLA to the refuge to see the results of the improvement programme and to have a cup of tea and a chat with some of the women and children.

Residential

Staff and Management Committee enjoyed a strategic planning residential in Sligo in the autumn. As well as considering the strategic direction of Omagh Women’s Aid, the weekend also provided the opportunity for staff and committee members to get to know each other better.

Court Support Project

In order to meet better the needs of women going through the family and domestic proceedings courts, Omagh Women’s Aid, with funding from Omagh Community Safety Partnership, have developed a Court Support Project, staffed by a team of accredited volunteers. It is hoped to launch the project formally in the coming months.

Women’s Aid in Antrim, Ballymena, C’fergus, Larne & Newtownabbey

White Ribbon Charter

In December 2008 we launched a year long campaign to secure signatures for our “White Ribbon Charter”. This involved an event on 9th December 2008 where 100 men signed the Charter which is now in Stormont for signature by all MLA’s. Copies of this Charter have been circulated for signature across all areas and it is planned that all signed copies will be presented to the Minister during the 16 Days of Action in 2009. The Charter states “I will not commit, condone or remain silent about violence against women”.

Health Minister Attends AGM

Michael McGimpsey MLA Minister for DHSSPS attended our AGM on Wednesday 26th November 2008 to celebrate the 10 year anniversary of the refuge in Ballymena. He unveiled a plaque which read “From October 1998 to October 2008 653 women and 662 children have sought Refuge within these walls”.

Minister Announces Funding Package

On 16th December 2008 Minister of State Paul Goggins MP visited the Naomi Centre in Ballymena where he announced a welcome funding package of £350,000 for the refurbishment of the Women’s Resource Centre.

Women’s Aid Newry, Mourne, South Down & South Armagh

25th Anniversary Year Celebration

An important diary date this year was our themed “Summer in the City” Gala Ball to celebrate the achievements of Women’s Aid in the Newry & Mourne area. The Minister of Education Caitriona Ruane MLA attended the ball along with hundreds of local business people, councillors and local community people to celebrate our achievements. At a Civic Reception the Mayor of Newry & Mourne presented Eileen Murphy (Area Manager) with a beautiful Tyrone Crystal ball in recognition of the years of commitment dedication and success achieved for the women and children in Newry & Mourne and the surrounding areas.

Prevention programmes for Women

Securing funding through Investing for Health enabled us to run core therapeutic support programs such as Body Talks, Journey to Freedom and ‘You Me, Mum’ and Health & Wellbeing self care workshops. A total of 830 women participated and the positive feedback and evaluation from each woman demonstrated the high level of need to continue to help women effectively manage the impact of domestic violence on their lives.

Prevention Training in Schools

A high number of participants received the training with 372 children in 15 primary schools and 497 young people in 16 post primary schools accessing the programmes. These programmes were funded through a collaborative funding application of the three Women’s Aid groups in the Southern Trust area through the Southern Health and Social Service Board Family Support Intervention project.

Men Overcoming Domestic Violence (MODV)

In this year we supported 21 women and 9 children whose partner or ex partners are on the PBNI’s MODV perpetrator programme.

Objects of the Charity

The aims of the Charity (which has ten member groups throughout Northern Ireland) have been encapsulated in the following mission statement:

Northern Ireland Women's Aid Federation exists to challenge attitudes and beliefs that perpetuate domestic violence. We seek, through our work, to promote healthy and non-abusive relationships.

The following are key aims of the Organisation:

Women's Aid is the lead voluntary organisation in Northern Ireland addressing domestic violence and providing services for women and children. We recognise domestic violence as one form of violence against women. Women's Aid seeks to challenge attitudes and beliefs that perpetuate domestic violence and, through our work, promote healthy and non-abusive relationships.

To oversee the delivery of a strategic and operational plan and development of a new strategic plan post 2010.

The core work of Women's Aid Federation Northern Ireland is structured under the four key aims:

1. Challenge attitudes and beliefs / policy

   Challenge the attitudes and beliefs that perpetuate domestic violence by lobbying, campaigning and influencing the policy agenda

   - To educate and inform the public, media, police, courts, social services and other agencies of the impact of domestic violence.
   - To advise and support all relevant agencies in the development of domestic violence policies, protocols and service delivery.
   - To work in partnership with all relevant agencies to ensure a joined up response to domestic violence.

2. Prevent Domestic Violence

   Promote healthy and non-abusive relationships through research, education and training

   - To provide a range of support services to enable women who are leaving a violent situation to rebuild their lives and the lives of their children.
   - To provide a range of support services to children and young people who have experienced domestic violence.
   - To run preventative education programmes in schools and other settings.

3. Support grassroots work

   Support the work of local Women’s Aid groups

   - As the umbrella body tackling domestic violence in Northern Ireland we co-ordinate and lead local Women’s Aid groups on all regional initiatives and developments.
   - Develop and support local Women's Aid groups to provide refuge accommodation to women and their children suffering mental, physical or sexual abuse within the home.
• To manage the 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline which provides the key co-ordination role for women accessing refuge and other services.
• Develop and deliver a range of child protection training through Regional Children’s Planning meetings with Women’s Aid local groups. This supports the provision of services to children and young people who have experienced domestic violence.
• Work with local Women’s Aid groups to develop and sustain a regional fundraising strategy.

4. Manage and Develop Resources

Manage and develop resources – personnel, financial resources, estate – to meet the challenges of a changing political, economic and social policy environment

• To ensure effective leadership and management through good governance and support to our Board of Trustees.
• To manage, supervise and train all staff and volunteers on a continuing basis.
• To maintain rigorous financial auditing and accounting systems.
• To consider the impact of the Review of Administration on the Federation and local Women’s Aid groups. A change process is currently being facilitated by the Federation.
• To identify and secure funding for new premises for Women’s Aid Federation NI offering disabled access, safety of night workers access, secure parking and adequate space for training and development.

• To oversee the delivery of the current strategic and operational plan and development of a new strategic plan post 2010.

Decision Making Structures

The governing body of Women’s Aid Federation, the Management Board, is largely drawn from membership of affiliated groups. The Management Board is responsible for the strategic direction of the organisation and oversees the management of the organisation. The day-to-day management and operation of the activities are carried out by a staff team, lead by the Director and Management Team, who also report regularly to the Board.

Identified Risks

Uncertain and short term funding continues to make future planning extremely difficult. We will continue to negotiate with government departments to extend their commitment to ensure that our core work can effectively continue and secure the sustainability of all our projects. Some projects continue to be at risk with short-term funding.

Volunteers

Volunteers play a key role in all the services of Women’s Aid. We are able to sustain our 24 Hour Domestic Violence Helpline with the vital support of our volunteers. The Management Board members (Directors) also volunteer their time freely to attend regular monthly Board meetings, sub groups and offer ongoing support to the organisation.
Review of the transactions and financial position of Women’s Aid Federation

Women’s Aid Federation’s funds have mainly been applied to the objects specified by each project’s funders. It is policy to meet all restricted fund deficits by transfers from the accumulated unrestricted funds.

The Statement of Financial Activities indicates that the Organisation had incoming resources of £867,102 in the year which exceeded resources expended of £729,719 by £137,383 and this amount has been transferred to the Organisation’s accumulated funds.

The Balance Sheet at 31 March 2009 shows a net Accumulated Funds balance at that date of £375,875.

No significant events have occurred since that date of the Balance Sheet which affect the Organisation or which materially affect these financial statements.

report if we become aware of any apparent misstatements within it.

Basis of Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland) issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgments made by the management board in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company’s circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularities or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of the information in the financial statements.

Opinion

In our opinion:

- the financial statements give a true and fair view, in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice of the state of the company’s affairs at 31 March 2009 and of its surplus for the year then ended;
- the Financial Statements have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies (Northern Ireland) Order 1986; and
- the information given in the directors’ report is consistent with the financial statements.
